SENATOR QUAY VISITS CANTON

The Pennsylvania Leader Calls on Major McKinley.

ACCOMPANIED BY SENATOR PENROSE

Surmises as to the Nature of Their Visit -- It May Mean a Cabinet Appointment for Governor Hastings. A Call from California -- Sixty Business Men from Texas Bring a Big Petition.

Canton, Ohio, Jan. 17 .- Senator Matthew Stanley Quay, accompanied by Senator-elect Boies Penrose, arrived in Canton unannounced at 10.26 yesterday morning, walked up to the McKinley home, and departed at 2 o'clock, leaving nobody much the wiser than before they came. Senator Quay said absolutely nothing beyond the few words, "I have come to see McKinley," and Mr. Penrose went no further than to intimate in a vague way that the possibility of getting a cabinet appointment for Governor Hastings had led to their Canton trip. Those who understand the mysteries of Pennsylvania politics will be better able to comprehend the real object of their presence than those who surround the president-elect. Both Mr. Quay and Mr. Penrose were asked for expressions of opinion re-specting the availability of Charles Emory Smith for the treasury portfolio, but evaded a direct reply.

While these gentlemen were with Mr. McKinley, Judge Joseph McKenna, of San Francisco, another of the cabinet possibilities, arrived and succeeded them, gaining the major's private room He remained in conference for a long After emerging he was asked whether he expected to enter the cab-inet, and answered: "I can make no definite statement to you, but there are places in the cabinet to be filled, and therefore my visit. Naturally lawyers would prefer the attorney-generalship or the treasury department portfolio, but the interior department is desirable, and some of our best cabinet officers have been lawyers, as secretaries of the navy," and then the judge, who has an appreciation of his own humor, smiled. Judge McKenna may remain until some time on Monday, a circumstance taken to indicate that his name is on the McKinley list of availabilities, but not yet where it can be regarded

BIG PETITION FROM TEXAS.

The spectacular incident of the day vas the arrival of sixty business men from Texas, who brought a petition containing 103,000 names asking for the appointment in the cabinet of John Grant, Republican national committeeman for Texas. The Texas delegation found a cordial greeting, but no assurances that could be called comforting. After their pictures had been taken, with the president-elect in the the Texas visitors left the city. Major C. W. F. Dick, who is sometimes spoken of as Mr. McKinley's private secretary, came down from Cleveland to consult with the presidentelect on the senatorial situation in Ohio. Major Dick declares positively that there is nothing in the private secre-taryship talk, and that he is busy with Mr. Hanna on national committee affairs. He thinks that the governor ought to name Mr. Hanna, by all means, for the vacancy to be created by the resignation of Senator Sherman, but on this point there are wide differences of opinion. The pressure is very strong in favor of an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of electing a senator, and as that body is new constituted Mr. Hanna might find it difficult to win. It is hard to say just what will be done, but at least it is evident that Ohloans propose to indulge in a great deal of discussion before a settlement of the matter is possible.

A QUIET SUNDAY.

This was a quiet Sunday at the Mc-Kinley home and was undisturbed to Cabinet making ceased, the Major's study was deserted and he rested and went to church. Webb Hayes, a son of the late president, dined with Mr. and Mrs. McKinley and took a drive with them in the afternoon, returning home on an early evening train.

Now that Senator Sherman has accepted the portfolio of state the rest of the cabinet seems to center on a sec-retary of the treasury. Charles Emory Smith has been mentioned frequenty in connection with this important poparts, new storm collars and all that sition, but another name has been sug-style can give them. A No. 1 value at gested which will also receive due consideration at the hands of the presilent-elect. The treasury possibility is Congressman J. M. McCleary, of Minnesota. He attracted the attention of the president-elect by his forcible speeches in congress on the silver question and was here once during, and once since the campaign. Major McKinley is very favorably impressed with Mr. McCleary. The president-elect will be glad to find suitable man for secretary of the reasury outside of New York in order that no suspicion of complications with Wall street may attach to him, but if the best man for the place is clearly shown to be in New York, the appointment will be made from that state.

The friends of General Alger, who came here from time to time, are feeling very hopeful at present. The Republican party of Michigan has practically been consolidated in favor of General Alger, according to Senator Burrows, and in this respect, he is a stronger cabinet possibility than either Henry C. Payne, of Wisconsin, or ex-Governor Merriam, of Minnesota. It is likely that the present week will see the president-elect reach a definite conclusion respecting the appointment of a cabinet officer from the Pacific slope. Judge Joseph McKenna is thought by those much given to cabi-net speculation, to be in the lead. He served in congress with Major Mc-Kintey and was on the committee of ways and means with him.

state Mr. Hanna said: "I do not know a thing about the matter, no more than what the newspapers have said. I will not say a word about whether I think the appointment a good one or not. OLD MAN KILLS HIMSELF.

Despondency Induced by III Health and Financial Difficulties Caused the Act of Self-Destruction.

Jabez E. Lemon, of Forest City, committed suicide vesterday morning by sending a bullet into his brain. Lemon was a widower, 66 years of age, and had been a resident of Forest City for upwards of eight years. Despondency is ascribed as the cause of his self-destruction.

Lemon conducted a pool room in the Higgins block on Depot alley and lived in apartments in the rear. A man named Walsh shared his apartments. Early Sunday morning Walsh was aroused by a sharp, cracking sound, but as he heard no sound succeding the one that awakened him he thought that one of the bottles of soft drink in the pool room had exploded and went to sleep again. An hour or two later he again awoke and as it was then daylight he discovered the body of Leon, who had killed himself while sitting in a chair. Lemon evidently placed a revolver to the center of his forehead and fired. When Walsh discovered the body it was bolt upright chair was a revolver with one empty shell from which had been expelled the

Brennan was notified of the suicide and in the absence of the coroner of Susquehanna county, empanellel a jury consisting of Dr. Grander, Druggist Alfred Davis, W H. Bates, W. L. Bates, T. J. Pentecost James J. Brown. The jury viewed the remains and heard the testimony of Welsh and then adjourned until 2 clock this afternoon. When Lemon first settled in Forest City he embarked in the bakery business and did a prosperous business for a time. A fire visited his place which practically ruined him and thereafter he seemed unable to again get on a sound financial footing. For a long time he has been in bad health and this together with his financial troubles made him very despondent. Lemon has a sister in Great Bend and three sons in Newburg, N. Y.

COMING PRIVATE SECRETARY.

Perry S. Heath Said to Have Been

Selected by Mr. McKinley. Washington, Jan. 17.-It is positively stated on the authority of private addees from Canton that President-elect McKinley has decided to appoint Perry S. Heath his private secretary. As James Boyle, who has been Major Mc-Kinley's secretary ever since the latter was inaugurated governor of Ohio in January, 1892, is desirous of going abroad, he, it is said, leaves the field, and Mr. Heath will be the one to bear the honors. Mr. Boyle probably will be sent to Bradford as consul to succeed Claude Meeker.

Mr. Heath was for several years connected with the Washington bureau of the United Associated Presses,

THE STATE CAPITAL

United States Senator to Be Elected

COMMITTEES HAVE BEEN SELECTED

Penrose--John Wanamaker's Followers Organize Under the Title of the "Seventy Six" .- A Shower of Bills Ready to Fall Upon the Legisspecial to the Scranton Tribune.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.-This will be an ventful week at the state capital. The egislature will reconvene tomorrow vening after a twelve-day recess. A joint convention of the house and senate will be held Tuesday in the hall of the house to elect a United States senator. State Senator Boles Penrose of Philadelphia, is the choice of the Republicans and will have a large majority over ex-Lieutenant Governor Chauncey F. Black, of York, whom the Democrats will honor with their votes. Speaker Boyer and President Pro Tem. McCarrell have consulted with party leaders and politicians during the reand are thought to have their lists about complete.

The committees will be announced by Wednesday and then the shower of bills will begin to fall. The joint Repub-lican slate committee will meet tomorrow before the session to complete the list of officers and subordinates of house and senate. Both branches will be fully organized after the new officers take hold and are ready to proceed with business. The senate rules committee will meet Tuesday to amend the rules to provide for several additional standing committees. There are now only thirtythree committee chairmanships to be distributed among forty-four Republican senators. Mr. McCarrell favors the creations of committees of street railways, interstate commerce and ther subjects.

The rules committee will also provide for a clerk to the house and senate committees on compare bills. It is pro-posed to make these officials responsible for errors and omissions in the transcribing of bills. The committee will also consider a change in the rules making it obligatory upon a member introducing a bill to file a certified copy of the same with the clerk, which shall at once be available for examination,

THE "SEVENTY-SIX."

A conference of the legislators who voted for John Wanamaker for United States senator will be help here Monday afternoon. Senator C. C. Kaufman, of will be the organization of an association to be called "The Seventy-six This is the number of votes polled by Mr. Wanamaker in the joint Republican caucus. The organization will have permanent headquarters during the session and will hold stated meetings to discuss legislation.

A bill is to be introduced in the house early in the session by a Philadelphia member allowing trotting, pacing and running contests in Pennsylvania upon the tracks of regularly organized and chartered associations from April 1 to November 1 annually for a period of not exceeding sixty days upon any track or by any association. The bill also permits the selling of pools only upon such tracks during a meeting and only upon the races then in progress. Petitions are being circulated urging the passage of such a law. They set forth that "the present laws in this state relating to racing are unfair, unjust and an abridgment of the natural liberty granted every citizen by the constitution of the United States; that it has worked incalculable injury to the thousands of breeding establishments of the state, owners and former employes of the same." The movement is being directed from Philadel-

TEXT BOOK WAR CONTINUES. The proposed fight to be made against the text book combine by Senator Arthur Kennedy, of Allegheny, is already attracting attention. A bill is to be offered in the senate similar to that advocated two years ago by Representative Douthett, of Butler. 'The primary object of the measure will be to limit the cost of text books. It provides for a school book board, to consist of the governor, secretary of the commonwealth and state superintendent of public instruction. Within sixty days after the passage of the act the state superintendent is expected to have gathered required information and prepared a list of text books with the publishers' prices attached. The board will fix the price of each school book not to exceed 75 per cent. of the wholesale rate now quoted. After the list of school books is prepared the publishers will be asked for proposals at prices not exceeding the new ones fixed by the board to furnish the books for five years under contract, the school boards to pay the freight. Failure to fill the orders by publishers is punishable by a penalty of $500. The books adopted cannot be changed for five years without a three-fourths vote of the board. The board can order the books from the publishers at the prices stipulated by the school book board, or if they can secure the same books at less money they are at liberty to do so.

NEW LICENSE MEASURE.

The legislative committee of the State Liquor Deniers association will stay in Harrisburg during the session to look after legislation. A liquor license bill is to be introduced to protect the retailer, the wholesaler and the bottler. The measure has been drafted and will be presented early. The parties having it in charge have not yet decided who they will have present it. The bill provides that if a bottler bottles spirituous liquors and mait liquors he shall pay the same license as a retailer and a wholesaler pays, but if he bottles malt liquor only, then he pays the same license that he now pays.

The brewers favor the feature which provides they shall not bottle at all and shall sell nothing less than a quarter harrel. They claim the restricting of them to a quarter will save them money as it does not pay to sell in less quan-

This would reduce the present rate of county expense and at the same time maintain the state supervision. Wanbaugh.

MARRIED AFTER THEIR ESCAPE.

Girls Who Got Out of Baltimore

House of Refuge Find Husbands. Baltimore, Jan. 17.-On Monday last Daisy Cole and Gertrude Stalcup escaped from the house of refuge, where they had been sent at the request of their parents. They scaled a barbed against his wife on the belief that she wire fence and once without the interded removing the child beyond the grounds separated. Daisy hurried to jurisdiction of the court, the water front and boarded a sailing vessel. To the captain, William Wyatt a young unmarried man, she told her story, and he proposed marriage on the spot. She consented, and Pastor Richard Schmidt tied the knot. The following day the girl gave herself up. but claimed the state had no further jurisdiction, as she was a wife. A lawyer was consulted, and through him a writ of habeas corpus was issued. The state abandoned the case, and the girl sailed away with her husband. Last night Gertrude Stalcup, who had not been found, was married to Edward Apt. When she got out of the refuge she wandered about footsore and weary, and staggered into the house of Mrs. Stohking and begged shelter. Apt, who was a boarder, fell in love with the girl, and after several days he proposed marriage. He was accepted, and the superintendent of the refuge, when informed, helped to get the marriage Beense. Daisy is 16 and Gertrude 18 years of age.
